Begin trial in Dr. X's suit against Dr. Bakalis

A jury of four women and two men will begin hearing a trial this week in a libel suit by Dr. Thwan Han, a Granite City psychiatrist, against Dr. Michael J. Bakalis, former Illinois state comptroller and former state public instruction superintendent.

Asserting that the state official injured his credit and reputation in 1978 by accusing a "Dr. X" of defrauding the state of thousands of dollars in Medicaid payments through over-billing, Dr. Han seeks $1 million actual damages and $1 million punitive damages.

U. S. District Judge William L. Beatty of Granite City will preside at the trial in Alton. Dr. Bakalis is now a deputy undersecretary in the U. S. Department of Education.

Bakalis never identified Dr. Han but others said they had determined that Dr. Han was the target of Bakalis, who was running for governor at the time.

May change air standards here

The Illinois House of Representatives on Thursday adopted legislation requiring the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to recommend relaxed standards in three areas if a study indicates overall federal air quality regulations could still be met.

A law enacted last spring required the IEPA to conduct a study of whether state regulations on sulfur dioxide and particulates could be modified in the three metropolitan areas to permit greater use of Illinois' high-sulfur coal while still complying with federal air quality rules. Results of the study are to be announced this fall.

The current bill, which was forwarded to the Senate, also would prohibit state air quality standards from being more stringent than federal standards.

The Illinois EPA says the two sets of standards currently are about the same, but that an effort is expected in Congress next year to ease the federal provisions.

Taylor Peissoneau, vice-president of the Illinois Coal Association, says the state and federal limits are the same for rural areas, but that existing Illinois regulations are more strict than necessary to meet federal ambient air quality goals in the three metropolitan areas.

The bill approved by the House would require the IEPA—if its study found it was possible—to relax present rules to permit more use of Illinois coal—to make suitable recommendations to the Illinois Pollution Control Board.

Baby girl found

By VALERIE EVENEDEN of the Press-Record

Mary Elizabeth June, a bouncing baby girl weighing nine pounds, seven ounces, is in residence at St. Elizabeth Medical Center under the guardianship of Sister Mary Thomas, president.

The infant was discovered at 7:45 a.m. Saturday on the doorstep of the Hope Clinic for Women, 1602 Twenty-first St., not far from the emergency entrance to the medical center.

She was about one hour old when found by a woman from Jefferson City,

Mo., who was walking past the doorway.

"The lady saw the blanket and thought it moved, so she looked inside," a spokesman for St. Elizabeth said today.

She carried the infant across the street to the medical center's guard office and a security officer took the baby into the emergency room.

"It was necessary to clamp off the umbilical cord, but otherwise the infant

Man stabbed fatally

Terry L. "Tohy" Wickam, 26, of 2836 Denver St., died at 8:55 p.m. Friday in St. Elizabeth Medical Center from stab wounds, according to Dick Mizell, deputy coroner for Madison County.

A suspect is being sought. Police responding to a call at 8:15 p.m. Friday at Vic's Tavern, 2001 Illinois Ave., found Mr. Wickam lying in the northeast corner of the tavern. Earlier, he was sitting at a table with three other persons when a man came in and talked over to the table with a hand in his pocket.

The victim stood up and the man struck at him twice and fled, with the owner of the tavern chasing him.

At first the patrons of the tavern thought Mr. Wickam had just been hit. Later, they realized he had been stabbed. There were two wounds in the abdomen.

The suspect left a 10-speed bicycle at the tavern and police found a knife with a blade length of 2 1/2 inches and an overall length of seven inches.

Receiving a call that the victim might be dying, police went to the hospital for a statement. Mr. Wickam named his assailant and police are looking for an individual, for whom they obtained a murder warrant.

It is believed that the victim and the suspect were involved in an incident a few hours earlier in the 2200 block of Adams Street.

The suspect was described as about 25 years old, wearing blue jeans and a dark shirt with sleeves partially rolled up. He had shoulder length black hair. Additional information on Mr. Wickam is given in the obituary column.

Gasoline rationing plan 'unfair'

A standby gasoline rationing plan was forwarded by Pres. Jimmy Carter to Congress Thursday and will become official unless rejected by both chambers by July 30.

But it is a costly, complex and time-consuming proposal, and U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois immediately opposed it as unfair in a speech to the Senate.

The administration's plan would not be the best way to discourage consumption if the supply of oil is disrupted, Percy asserted.

The plan was required by a law passed last year giving the president emergency powers during a fuel supply crisis. Congress turned down a potential rationing plan submitted to it in December.

Sen. Percy told fellow senators that the latest proposal has too many inequities and would take too much time to develop.

Energy Department officials want to work for a year at a cost of $600 million before the plan would take effect. In the meantime, simpler procedures would be followed if gasoline supplies fall.

Percy says the year's pre-implementation planning would create an "open season" for special interests to obtain favored treatment.

"With coupons distributed to registered vehicles instead of to individual motorists, many people may feel that it gives an undue advantage to wealthy, multi-car families," the Illinoisan said.

"Allocation to states based on historical fuel consumption could give Sunbelt states—especially those like Florida, with many tourists—an unfair advantage.

"In Illinois, I can foresee extra coupons being available in Chicago, where we have mass transit. I am concerned that Downstate businesses and smaller-town residents may not be able to buy extra coupons, no matter how badly they need them because of absolute reliance on the auto for transportation."

July draft signup

By a 58-34 vote Thursday, the U. S. Senate approved spending $13,300,000 to renew mandatory military registration for the first time since 1975.

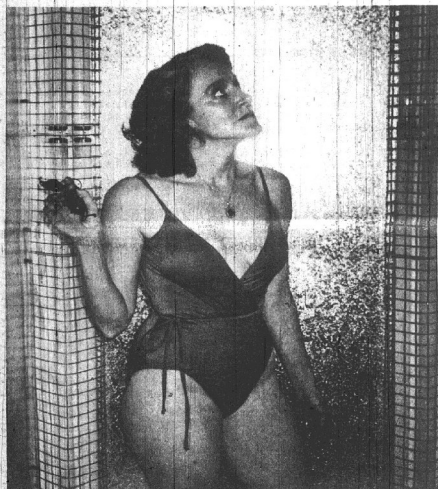

Current plans call for the registration program to begin in mid-July.

In the first week, men born in 1960 will register. In the second week, men born in 1961 will sign up. Location will be the 34,000 post offices.

The House has passed legislation almost identical to that enacted in the Senate, and is expected to act this week on a minor amendment that the senators added (cutting the ap-

Lottery adds to Chrysler woes

Despite the early successes of the new Illinois State Lottery daily game, the lottery is failing to provide fully a $20 million surplus some legislators hope to lend to the financially distressed Chrysler Corporation.

Lottery Supt. Richard Carlson said Thursday that unless there are record sales in the 1980-81 year starting July 1, and unless the lottery maintains a high profit rate, the game is unlikely to produce the funds projected for the automaker.

Optimists mark 61st anniversary

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record
Today, Monday, June 16, 1980 is the 61st anniversary of Optimist International. What is an Optimist Club? It is a group of concerned men representing a cross section of the community, who recognize their civic responsibilities and join voluntarily in thought and action for the good of the community. Each club acquires stature and prestige through its affiliation with Optimist International, but in the final analysis the activity, image and destiny of each Optimist club is molded by its members and leaders. What do Optimists do? Whatever needs doing in the community. If a need exists or if something will help the community, Optimists, usually do something about it. John Voyles is the current

Granite City Noonday Optimist Club president. G. H. Sternberg, past president of the local club is also a past International Optimist President. The club meets at the Granite City YMCA at 12:15 p.m. on Thursdays. The GC Optimist were chartered in April 1929 and a charter party was held in the Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis. Aaron Thomas' mother will be remembered as Elizabeth "Betsy" Fields.

When police started to take to Rippey he allegedly refused to answer question and refused to get into the squad car, after being informed he was under arrest. At the police station, Rippey allegedly again became abusive and unruly, and began fighting police.

Suit by Dr. X

The Granite Cityan says Bakalis made the accusations "with the ulterior motive of obtaining publicity for himself as a gubernatorial candidate." Until then unbalanced in elective campaigns, Bakalis won the Democratic nomination for governor but lost in November 1978 as Governor James R. Thompson garnered a second term in the executive mansion. It is Bakalis' position that he was only performing his duty as a public official in speaking out—doing my job with the authority I had at the time. He discounts allegations in the lawsuit as "nonsense," commenting that he had no political motivation in the case and that he had the right to "pass on the legitimacy of every dollar" spent by the state. State records indicate Dr. Han received $43,799 in 1978 and $101,079 last year in state medical aid payments. He also counseled many public aid patients in 1976 and 1977. After hearings, the Illinois Department of Public Aid recommended allowing him to continue performing such duties, while also calling for repayment of $2,136 from him. The finding by a hearing officer in May 1978 was that the psychiatrist was not responsible for whatever overpayments may have been made by the state. A new series of hearings began June 6. Officials have not discussed them in detail, but it is believed the hearings are further exonerating the psychiatrist and his actions. Dr. Bakalis says that while he is the lone defendant, the suit could have a broad impact: "It could constrain public officials in the job that the public has given them to do. It could also discourage young people from participating in public office because of the fear of litigation."

Gasoline rationing

Sen. Percy would like to reject the rationing plan and instead discourage gasoline use with a system of additional taxes, combined with rebates paid by withholding less income tax or less Social Security tax. "In a sense, we would be giving drivers dollar bills instead of ration coupons," Percy noted.

Energy Secretary Charles Duncan has called for motorists to receive government ration "checks" which they could then exchange for coupons at banks and post offices. The plan gives extra allowances for agriculture, mass transportation and other "high priority" users. If gasoline availability drops 20 percent, a typical motorist would get rights to 42 gallons a month, give or take eight gallons depending on whether he is in a high- or low-consumption state. Extra coupons could be legally bought or sold. One official estimates one-gallon coupons would sell for between $2 and $5, not counting the cost of the gasoline itself. Businesses would receive ration allotments based on their previous consumption patterns.

Chrysler operates an assembly plant at Belvidere, near Rockford, with 5,600 employees. Also, about 21,000 persons work at Chrysler auto dealerships in Illinois or at factories doing work for Chrysler in the state. Meanwhile, the state lottery tomorrow will begin a new "3 for the

was in good condition," the hospital spokesman said. Pediatricians George T. Wilkins and Sharique Ahmad are caring for the new arrival. "She has lots of black hair and is 2 1/2 inches long.

"Sister Mary Thomas was pretty excited. She named the baby Mary Elizabeth and added the third name June because she was found in June," the spokesman commented. By leaving the baby so close to the medical center, it was theorized that whoever abandoned the child wanted her to be found quickly. It was noted that to have left the newborn infant on the hospital's doorstep would have meant immediate discovery, as all entrances are within view of around-the-clock personnel.

Pontoon Lions to install

David Schermer will be installed as president of the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach at the group's fourth annual Lions Club installation of officers and community awards dinner.

Lion Schermer has served the club as building committee chairman and as a member of the finance, activities and constitution and by-laws committees. $2,000 taken in home invasion

Two men, one of them armed with a saved-off shotgun, forced their way into the home of Clem Smith, 506 State St., Madison, and robbed him of $2,000 in cash. Smith reported he was awakened at 1:55 a.m.

CONSTRUCTION TRAILER
A construction trailer belonging to S. M. Wilson Co., parked at the south end of Westgate Drive, Pontoon Beach, was gutted by fire this morning. The Long Lake Volunteer fire department responded with 20 men and two pumps at 1:10 a.m. and were at the scene until 2:20 a.m. Cause of the fire is unknown. There has been no estimate made of the damage.

Friday when the robbers forced their way into the house, pointed a shotgun at him and said, "If you don't give us all the money, we'll kill you."
After taking a reported $2,000 in cash, a 1921 silver dollar and a nine-shot .22 caliber pistol, they tied Smith with a belt and small rope.
Smith got loose and telephoned police. He said the man with the shotgun was black, six feet tall and weighed about 200 pounds. The only description of the other man was that he was short and was black.
The pair allegedly fled north on State street.

Broader base is sought by regional group

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association, the metropolitan area's nationwide economic development organization, has launched a 90-day campaign for new members.
Ted C. Wetterau, vice chairman for membership, said the organization will seek to broaden its base of support so it can better promote the economic health of the metropolitan region.
"A corps of 108 executive volunteers has begun calling on prospective members all over the bi-state area," Wetterau said. "They will emphasize to businesses and organizations that, in supporting the development of the region's economy, they are helping themselves."

Alfred Fleishman, chairman emeritus of the public relations firm of Fleishman-Hillard, Inc. is chairman of the sales force. The RCGA is supported almost entirely from dues paid by its 2,800 members. While its activities have been increasing, dues increases have not kept up with inflation, according to George A. Speer, membership manager.

He said the group "is constantly working to improve economic conditions here — to retain businesses in this area — to bring new employers into the community — and to represent the economic community before local, state and federal agencies."
"Nearly everyone who makes a living in the region benefits from the activities."

The Madison County Board Legislative Committee favors reducing a proposed cable TV station fee from $10,000 to $2,000.

All but 7 of 500 signatures on petitions circulated in Madison County to reduce the size of the Illinois House were found to be valid. There is speculation that the proposal will get on the November ballot.

The Madison County Board Buildings Committee will negotiate with Walker Washer Service, the firm with a contract to supply a county jail laundry equipment, to see if it can provide alternate equipment to free the jail's space and power supply.

Bids will be opened June 27 on installing traffic signals and revising the intersection of Jill Avenue and Nameoki Road.

Decision on Depot staff is tentative

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

A proposal to perform by private contract a number of services now handled by civil and military personnel at the Granite City Army Installation, a move that would eliminate 211 present jobs, is under review by the U.S. Department of the Army, it was learned by the Press-Record Friday.

The public affairs office of the U.S. Army Troop Support and Aviation Materiel Readiness Command (TSARCOM) at St. Louis, said an early decision in the matter is expected.
Maj. Gen. Richard Thompson, commander of TSARCOM told civil service employees of the Army that installation of the plan during a meeting Monday.

If approved, the operational revision would affect 197 civilian employees and 12 military personnel now at the Army Installation, a spokesman said.

Births

Births recorded at St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

GIRLS
Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baiter, 2018 Washington Ave., June 12, Charly Lee, six pounds, 13 ounces.
Mr. and Mrs. David Morlen, 316 Sunny Shores, June 14, Stephanie Kay, eight pounds, three ounces.
BOYS
Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Convery, Florissant, Mo., June 13, Matthew Gerald, six pounds, 12 ounces.

employees that a proposal for handling certain services at the Installation by RCA Corporation of Cherry Hill, N.J., has been "tentatively" approved and is now under review for a final decision.
An Army spokesman told the Press-Record that the conversion plan is based on the results of a survey that was initiated in February 1979 to determine the extent of savings possible by performing many of the Army Depot services through private contract rather than under the present system.

Under the RCA Corporation proposal, the spokesman said, services performed at the Installation under the present system costing $19,385,000 over the last 24 months would be performed for $14,997,000, or a saving of $4,388,000.
This is considered a significant saving in operational cost and is in line with the policy of conversion to the private sector at Army installations not only here but throughout the country," the spokesman added.

Specific services that would be converted at the Army Installation were not outlined pending a final decision, but it was noted that such services as general maintenance, grass cutting, police and fire department operations and similar services are among those that have been converted at other Army bases.

Army officials said that if the RCA Corporation proposal is finally accepted, the conversion would become effective on Oct. 1 this year.

If the plan is initiated, the Army will make every effort to place employees affected by the change in other government jobs, particularly those who are career government workers, it was said.
In addition, the government would offer retraining to aide displaced workers to qualify for other government positions, it was explained.

Urge citizens be alert for potential crime

Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon warned at last week's Madison City Council meeting that citizens in his ward and in the city to be aware of who is in their neighborhood because of the large number of burglaries occurring in the past few months.

"We have had a rash of burglaries in the Third Ward in the past few months. I believe some of these are happening in the early evening."

"I would like to ask the citizens to help the police by keeping alert in their own neighborhoods. People know who belongs and who does not in their area," Gordon added.

"The police can't be everywhere in the city at once and they need our help," Gordon said.

Police Lieut. William Papa said, "I wish the people would call us when they see someone on patrol and can respond anywhere in the city in just a couple of minutes."

"If something or someone just doesn't seem right, ask the people to call us and we will check it out," Papa said.

Mayor Mike Sasyk said,

"When people call they do not have to give their names. Just tell the police when strangers are in the area and let the police check them out."

Burglaries increased from six in May 1979 to 11 in May this year, according to a police report.

It was suggested that when persons are going to be away from home they should let the neighbors know, so they can help watch.

For those going on vacation it is suggested they have a neighbor either take care of the mail or have the postoffice hold it, so that it does not stack up in a mail box, a sure sign a person is not at home.

Other suggestions for vacations is to stop delivery of newspapers while the person is gone and make arrangements with the neighbors to keep throw-away papers picked up, so they do not clutter and stack up, another sign no one is at home.

Residents who are going on vacation should also notify the police when they are leaving and when they will return, officials said.

Till tappers at liquor store

A total of $70 cash and a check for $31.50 were discovered missing from Onk's Liquor store, 2600 Madison Ave., after five men left the premises at 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

One of the men had a large Afro hairdo, beard and sideburns. He was five feet, six inches tall, medium build and wore a blue striped shirt and cap.

Another man was five feet, nine inches tall, thin build and wore a brown shirt, black trousers and had a red handkerchief tied around his hand.

A third man was described as about five feet, nine inches to six feet tall, medium build and wearing a yellow shirt.

Bagworms in shrubs

By RON CORNWELL, County Farm Adviser
Now is the time to check shrubs for bagworms. If you have a bagworm problem, this is the time to control the problem.

Bagworms spend winter in the egg stage. About June 1 in this area, the eggs begin to hatch. It is easy to overlook the newly hatched worms.

It is important to control bagworms while they are still small. Once the bagworms become half grown, they are difficult to kill with insecticide.

There are a number of insecticides that will control bagworms. For a list of insecticide recommendations Quad-Cityans may contact the Madison County Extension Office, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

Summer BAC enrollment rises

Summer enrollment at Belleville Area College is up approximately ten percent over last year. Registrar Vincent Margerum said the maximum number of students enrolled last summer was 3,354, compared to 3,605 as of June 9 this year.

That number constitutes a seven percent increase in headcount. Semester hour enrollment reached a maximum of 15,371 in 1979 compared to June 9, 1980, enrollment of 17,073 credit hours.

Some increase had been anticipated by the college because of the increase in unemployment.

Community colleges in Illinois have been able to correlate the factor of unemployment with enrollment. During times of high employment, enrollment generally declines, while in periods of high unemployment enrollment has increased.

Honor Ill. Power for '42 Minutes'

Illinois Power Co. last week received the Edison Award for distinguished service to the electric utility industry. The award was presented to Wendell J. Kelley, Ill. Power chairman and president, at the Edison Electric Institute's 48th annual convention in Chicago.

The Decatur-based utility was recognized for its work in preparing a videotape rebuttal to a report on the construction of its Clinton nuclear power plant, aired by CBS' "60 Minutes" last Nov. 25.

The Ill. Power production is a program about a program, made possible by the fact that while "60 Minutes" was filming IPC personnel, the utility itself was videotaping "60 Minutes" at work simultaneously.

The 42-minute tape mimics the distinctive "60 Minutes" style and interrupts the segment at a dozen different points to comment and expand on those areas that "60 Minutes" either edited out, presented incorrectly, or chose to ignore, the award reads.

Edison Electric Institute cited Ill. Power "for foresight in anticipating and preparing for a potentially misleading television broadcast and for innovation in communicating with the public."

Swim course for physically handicapped

The Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, is again offering instructional swimming for the physically handicapped who reside within the jurisdiction of the chapter.

Joanne Higgins will be in charge of the program and will train instructors June 30 through July 3. The hours will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon. In case of rain on June 30, the group will meet at the ice rink in Wilson Park.

The actual classes will begin July 7 and continue through Aug. 1. The pool is heated and will again be located at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bowler, 2609 Mockingbird Lane.

Personalized car licenses being mailed

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon reports that the first personalized (vanity) license plates have been received in his office and are being mailed to Illinois motorists.

These plates are the first of 13,000 sets applied for in the new program. They will be sent out as they are received daily from the manufacturer.

Dixon presented one of the first sets of plates received (BAR B Q) to Benson Jones, who operates a restaurant in Springfield. He was one of 3,189 lottery winners. The drawing was held to break ties among the original applicants.

"We have been pleased with the first response of the personalized plate program," Dixon said. "It will continue to grow."

"We will accept and process all requests for the special plates, up to a limit of six letters, on a first come, first served basis."

Every motorist receiving personalized plates is being notified to return the old plates and sticker 15 days. Renewal dates on the license sticker remain the same.

Dixon emphasized that only motorists who order personalized plates are paying the cost of the program, through an original $50 fee for passenger cars, $25 for motorcycles, and a $10 extra fee at registration renewal time. The secretary has estimated that sales of 25,000 sets of plates would add $1 million to the Illinois Road Fund above the cost of the program.

Little response to 'Small Cities' home loan plan

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Few residents of West Granite City and a part of State Park Place in Nameoki Township have responded to the availability of grants and no-interest loans for home improvements, although such a program was initiated by the Madison County Community Development agency five months ago, it was reported Friday by development officials.

The program, known as the "Small Cities" plan, provides loans and grants from a fund made available to the Madison County agency by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in areas designated as small cities. There are five such districts in the Quad-City area.

Deane Nolan, administrative aide to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler who is chairman of District Two of the Madison County Community Development program, said Friday that program leaders "are trying to figure out why there has been so little response to the loan offers, which are made available on lenient terms."

Small Cities grants and no-interest loans to make home improvements to properties occupied by one-family residents are based on family income according to the number of persons in a family.

The criteria of eligibility for one-family grants for rehabilitation work to correct building code violations and otherwise improve residential property up to a maximum of $7,500 includes: one person with an income up to $6,500; two persons in the family, an income of $7,500 or less; three, $8,500; four, $9,300; five, $10,050; six, $10,800; seven, $11,550; eight, $12,300.

Homeowners preferring a no-interest loan for home improvements may apply on the basis of one person with an income up to $10,400; two family members, income to $11,900; three, $13,400; four, $14,900; five, $16,400; six, $17,900; seven, $19,400; eight, $20,900.

The program also provides that landlords are eligible for a 5 percent loan to improve rental properties. These loans are available for repayment over 10 years, with a loan maximum of $10,000.

The West Granite City area which is particularly lacking in applications for loans or grants is bounded on the south and west by FA Route 151, on the north by North Street extending south to old Route 3, to West Pontoon Road and east to the New York Central-GMO railroad tracks.

Only a "very few" applications have been filed with the development agency by residents of the State Park area in which residents are eligible for loans or grants, according to a spokesman at the county development office in Edwardsville.

This area includes that part of State Park bounded on the south by Collinsville Road from West Point Ave to Canton Creek, and on the north by Fairway Lane.

Other districts designated as "small cities" include a part of the City of Venice, an area of North Venice and West Madison, and an area of Eagle Park Acres. However, officials said, sufficient applications have been received from these areas to cover available funds for these particular districts.

Development officials said the county early this year received a total grant of $562,000 to provide loans and grants for eight areas made up of the five Quad-City districts and three others in the Alton-Wood River area. The allotment for the West Granite City District amounted to $22,875, made up of $60,000 for grants, $12,000 for no-interest loans, $4,000 for demolitions and $6,875 in grants for legal services.

A total of $22,875 was allotted for loans, grants and legal services in the State Park area. Of the total $562,000 allotment for the county, $356,875 was earmarked for the five districts in the Quad-City area, the balance going to the three districts in Alton and Wood River.

Applications by residents of the West Granite City and State Park Place areas made to the Madison County Community Development agency, 130 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville 62045. Applicants may obtain more information by calling the development office at 692-4386.

Contract to Dron

Award of contracts totaling $254,000 for installation of equipment for the pilot scale project in the Environmental Resources Training Center has been authorized by the executive committee of the SIU Board of Environmental Resources.

The contracts include: Rule Construction Co., Collinsville, general work on the project, $78,820.

R. Dron Electrical Co., Inc., Granite City, electrical work, $21,085; and Modern Plumbing and Heating, East Alton, plumbing work, $154,095.

Items to be installed include equipment for a wet chemistry or wastewater analysis laboratory, audio-visual equipment, and equipment for pilot-scale unit operations and processes.

Funding for the project is primarily from an IEPA grant received by the university in 1977. Additional funding of $41,736 needed to complete the project will be from state funds appropriated to the university.

At its meeting in December, the SIU board approved specifications for installation of the equipment and authorized members of the executive committee to award the contracts.

University officers said that after the installation is completed, the ERTC will become a unique training facility because it will have hands-on training not offered anywhere else in the nation.

How to read your utility meters

Your meter will have four or five dials. This example shows a five-dial electric meter. Read the dials from left to right. When the arrow is between two numbers, read the lower of the two.

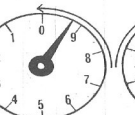

On the first dial above, the arrow is between six and seven. The reading is 6

Now move to the next dial to the right. (The numbers on this dial run counter-clockwise; that's the way the meter is geared.) The arrow here is between 3 and 4. The reading is 3

On the third dial above, the arrow is between 5 and 6. The reading is 5

The fourth dial also runs counter-clockwise. Here the arrow is past 9 and almost to 0. The reading is 9

On the fifth dial, the arrow is between 3 and 4, so the reading is 3

Your meter reading from left to right on the five dials is 63593. Make a note of the reading. When you read your meter again in, say, a month, it may read 64313, or 720 numbers more. That means you've used 720 kilowatt hours of electricity since you first read the meter.

Your gas meter reads the same but has only four dials and measures therms of gas. If your first reading is 6359 and your next reading is 6431, you've used 72 therms of gas since your first reading.

Reading your own meter from time to time enables you to check how much energy you're using and helps your family realize how wasteful habits can consume energy needlessly.

If you'd like further information about Illinois Power meters, please ask at our office.

GRANITE CITY — Once

Seven years ago, the

Tri-City-Glen Carbon battles
pick up. But now the Inter-

its own. Sunday marked the league. Emotions were

In one fell swoop,
McDonald's put a crimp in Corral's league-leading record, knocking them from a tie for first to third place. It was done primarily with a

Whether a true rivalry
will be created is yet to be seen. But the action in Sunday's contests has definitely taken a big step in that direction. A nip-and-tuck battle proved itself in the opener, however a game two was the best indication of determined competition.

The scene was inning five
and McDonald's was having its turn at bat. Bill Dalton's
two RBI single sent his team
into a 7-3 advantage.
Rounding first Dalton and Corral's first baseman Eldon Warfield collided which turned into a pushing and shoving match. The benches

cleared and emotions were
at a peak.
Frustrations were evident
on behalf of Corral. That entire fifth frame was disastrous as McDonald's
broke open a deadlock 3-3 tie.
Dalton's RBI was coupled
with Mike DeGonia and Dan Shaus' RBI single as McDonald scored four times.
Corral really never got a chance to get on track.

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD, Monday, June 16, 1980—7

Belleville Hilgards smack Tri-City, 6-1

BY TOM SCHOCKER
for the Press-Record
BELLEVILLE — Eldon
Warfield was relying on a bit
of that good luck to overcome a big obstacle — Belleville. Warfield and his Tri-City American Legion
baseball squad felt the wrath
of Friday the 13th and an undefeated Belleville (5-0)
team. A number of key errors enabled the Hilgards
to score five times enroute to a 6-1 victory at Citizens Park
in Belleville Friday.

"We didn't make that
many mistakes," said

Warfield, "but there were still too many." Centerfielder Mike DeGonia took
a stand for the Tri-City
defense, robbing Belleville's
lead off hitter with a diving
catch. However, his efforts were not taken to notice.
Belleville went on to grab an early 1-0 lead.

The mistakes worrying Warfield came around to
haunt him in the following inning. A couple of misplaced balls resulted in an increase of Belleville's advantage to four. "We
booted three grounders,"

said Warfield. "You just can't give a team six outs."
Tri-City's third miscue
finally opened the gates.
Belleville put the game out
of reach with a pair of tallies in
the third. "I tie a mental error with a physical
mistake," said Warfield;
"and we just had trouble
with physical mistakes."

If it's not one thing, it's another. Friday had a lot more in store for Warfield
than he was banking on.
While Tri-City's defensive
performance did more harm
than good, its accomplishments at the plate

looked equally disappointing.
"We don't drive runs in,"
said Warfield. "We want to motivate some action on the field. If we can, we'll try and steal a run. It's not a cheap
way, no runs are cheap."
However grounding into two double plays and barely
escaping from a third,
spelled a bad omen.
Belleville's starting pitcher
reduced the Tri-City bats to three hits. Two base knocks came in the third when John Vrenick and Kevin Sykes helped lead the bases. The heat was stalled though, on
a strike out.

The only tally was provided in inning four. Bob Stegemeier found out that you do not have to hit the ball
to get on base. Just let the ball hit you. He drew a pitch to his left elbow. The moment of anguish and
sacrifice of pain was worth
it. John Linhart's single moved Stegemeier to third
and Rick Dally's deep fly ball
gave Tri-City its run.

We're not trying to tear the
cover off the ball," said Warfield, "so we rely on good pitching." The damage
had already been committed
when Warfield received some solid pitching.
Belleville knocked starting
pitcher Kevin Cripps hard.
He was relieved in the third
by Vrenick, who allowed just
one base runner through the final three frames. "Vrenick
did a nice job," said War-
field.

Cahokia does in Glen Carbon easily

CAHOKIA — The Cahokia
American Legion baseball
team didn't need much time
to do away with Glen Car-
bon's squad here Friday.
Cahokia scored ten runs in the first inning of play and
coasted to a 12-1 fifth inning
triumph over Glen Carbon in District 22 Legion action at Legion Park in Cahokia.
Glen Carbon starter Keith Burton took the loss, while Cahokia's Ricky Tenholder
was the winner. Glen Carbon scored its only run in the fourth inning, after Cahokia
had added yet another run to
its total in the second inning.
Cahokia added its last run in the bottom of the fourth inning. The game was called because of the ten-run rule

after four and a half innings.
Cahokia powered 12 hits,
while Glen Carbon managed
only two — one by Larry Burns and one by catcher Ed
Burns. Cahokia's Kevin Meneal had two hits and drove in three runs. Chuck McQuaid had a double and a home run, while Tim Barrett
had a two-run triple.
Tenholder struck out 11 Glen Carbon batters and walked
two in five innings.
The loss for Glen Carbon
came on the heels of an exciting 5-4 victory over

Alton Thursday. In that one,
Glen Carbon, trailing 4-2
with two out in the bottom
of the seventh, got a clutch hit
from Larry Burns to drive in men on second third and give Glen Carbon the victory.
Glen Carbon got an excellent pitching performance
out of starter Greg Faulkner
who went the distance for the second time this season.
Glen Carbon will host
Fairview Heights tonight
(Monday) at 6 p.m. at Granite City High School.
Tuesday and play at O'Fallon Wednesday.

family who participated in
the tournament.
While Kris and Keith were busy in the "Open Division"
comprised of college-age
wrestlers, their two younger brothers were working toward the top of their weight classes in the junior division.
Pat Whelan finished first
in the 120-124 pound, Junior Division and brother Matt
placed second in the 109-116
pound class.
In fact, the names of many Granite Cityans, or at least
former Granite Cityans,
studied the list of winners in
all four divisions of the tournament.
In the Kid's Division for junior high school age
competitors, Granite City
wrestlers swept two weight
classes entirely and placed
high in most others.
In the 90-100 pound group,
Greg Nemeth, Darren Hasty
and Calvin Barton finished 1-2-3 respectively.

First-ever Granite tournament a success

Whelan vs. Whelan title bout highlights tourney

GRANITE CITY — If it
were a circus, the first-ever Granite City Open wrestling tournament would have
featured the 143-145 pound
weight division championship in the center ring.
But this was a wrestling
tournament — albeit a big
one — and the Whelan
brothers had to settle for the center mat.
Kris and Keith Whelan,
both all-Americans at Missouri University, and former Granite City North
wrestlers, rose to the championship bout of their weight class, Saturday at Granite City South's
gymnasium annex.
It was the match everyone
at the tournament had been prepared for. "We figured they'd be in the championship match," Monte Kessler, one of the
organizers of the tournament,
said. "It was the feature match of the day. When
those two guys get together
it's hard to remember
they're brothers."

Kris eventually won the match and Keith had to settle for second, but as it turned out, they weren't the only members of the Whelan

In the 126-135 pound class,
Mark Doffy, Dan Whitsell,
and Jeff Green completed
the sweep.
At 106-117, Tod Sline and Mark Whitsell finished first
and second, while John Krug
won the 71-79 pound division
and Mark Krug finished
third at 48-49 pounds.
In the junior division,
Bruce Widel won at 117-119
as did Greg Garland at 130-
140 and Doug Graham at 179-185.
Bob Patton and Jim Frangoulis finished first and
second in the 169-178 class, Randy Lupardus took third
in the 130-140 division, and
Rod Unger was third at 120-124.
In the Open Division,
which featured college-age
wrestlers, Scott Clement
won the 122-138 pound class,
while Wally DeShan finished
third.
In the 161-171 weight class, Darrell Hasty was second, as
was Kevin Wilson in the heavyweight division. Don King was third in the heavyweight class.

In the over-30 "Old-Timers Division," Jim Harsh and Dennis Roustio were first
and third respectively in the 160-180 class, and Randy Roustio finished third in the heavyweight division.

Dedication shows in non-stop tournament

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The
mat in the far corner of
the annex to Granite City South High School's
gymnasium was almost
like a private little arena.
Compared to the five
other mats spread across

the floor this one could easily have been
overshadowed.
Saturday, this was the scene of the Granite City
Open wrestling tournament. The first ever.

Over in the corner of the busy gym, removed
from the center of attention, 12-year-old Mike Lewis was rolling around with Wally Norvel.

A referee, a scorer, a few fellow wrestlers —
that was the extent of the
spectators for the wrestling match. Most

eyes were focused
elsewhere.
But for Lewis, an
eighth-grader at Grigsby
Junior High in Granite
City, and Norvel of East
St. Louis, nothing much
other than the match at
hand seemed to matter.
For the first two

periods, it was all Lewis.
He led 10-0 going into the third period. Then Norvel
scored four quick points
on a near fall and seemed to be making a comeback.
The scorer kept track of the time with a stop-
watch. Lewis held on.
"Time," the scorer
called. Lewis had won 10-4.

"I've been sick," the winner explained after he had rested a bit. "This is the first time in a long time I've wrestled, but I knew some guys who
were going to come out
here today so I decided to come too. I'm glad I did."
Such dedication was not uncommon on this day of almost nonstop wrestling.

Wrestlers from all over the Midwest, 175 in all
ranging in age from 12 to over 30, descended on Granite City to compete
in the tournament.

Familiar faces and
names aren't going to stay
in local wrestling circles filled the gym. And despite record-breaking
heat, the whole thing
came off without a hitch.
"We had about 70
volunteers," Monte Kessler, one of the
organizers of the event
said. "We're hoping to make it an annual event,
and from what we saw,
we're off to good start."
A sign-up sheet at the door was the only entrance requirement —

hence the "open" in Granite City Open — and
once signed in, the
wrestlers were divided
into four divisions.

The kids division was made up of wrestlers
junior-high-age and
under, the junior division
was for high school
wrestlers, the open
division was comprised of
college competitors, and
the old-timers division
was made up of wrestlers
over 30.

Of the 175 wrestlers
only 12 were entered in the old-timers group. But then the demand for 30-
year-old wrestlers is
greater maybe only than
the supply.

"We expected a larger
turn out," Kessler said.
"But there are not a lot of
places where these guys
can wrestle after they get out of college. Most of the guys who wrestle in high school aren't going to stay
in shape for a tournament
maybe once every two years."

The ones who did,
though, Saturday, fared
well at the tournament.
Despite the heat and the
distances many of them
traveled to take part.
"Four of the guys came from Chicago," Kessler
said. "They're wrestling
coaches and are in pretty good shape. One guy even flew his own plane down."

Not all of the over-30
wrestlers came from so
far away. Don Santanna,
the wrestling coach at Wood River High School,
served as a referee at the tournament, in addition to wrestling.

"He was refereeing a junior match when his
name was called to
wrestle," Kessler said.
"Someone went out on the mat and grabbed the
whistle, and he went over
to the other mat and wrestled."

"When he got through,
he came back and picked
up where he left off."
Then there was the Granite contingent of both wrestlers and officials. The high school
coaches, Bill Schmitt of South and Walt Whitaker
of North.

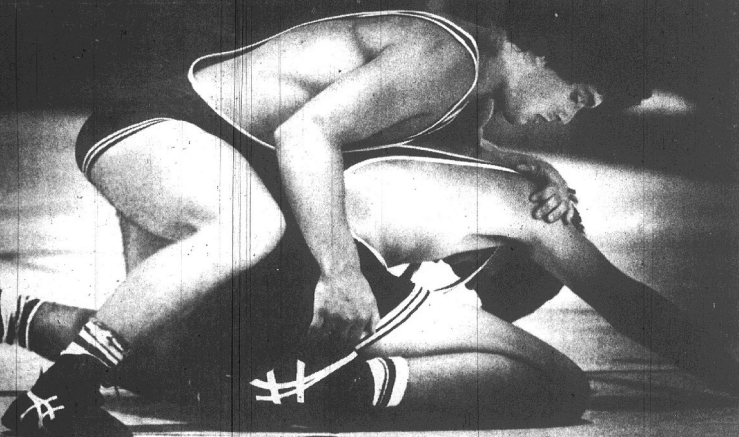

And familiar wrestling
names. Whelan, Clement, Lupardus, Frangoulis.
"We really didn't start
to publicize the tournament early enough," Kessler said. "We probably should have started about three months ago but we've
really only been contacting people for about two weeks. We hope to double the turn out for
next year."
Given the enthusiasm
of the people involved and
the feeling in Granite City
for the sport, that possibility seems highly probable.

Farrow, Almeida are honored

EDWARDSVILLE — Lilliam Almeida and Juan Farrow were honored Tuesday night at the climax of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville annual Athletic Awards banquet. Bob Coates, KMOX Radio sports personality, was the master of ceremonies.

Almeida and Farrow were picked as the University's Most Outstanding Women's and Men's Athletes of the 1979-80 sports year.

Almeida, a sophomore tennis player from Brazil, and Farrow, another tennis standout who is a resident of St. Louis, were chosen by the coaches of the University's eight men's varsity sports and six women's sports.

Farrow, a native of Virginia, moved to St. Louis to hone and sharpen his tennis game under the tutelage of the late legendary Dr. Richard (Dick) Hudlin.

The choice for the men's Most Outstanding Athlete was a difficult one for the coaches since the Cougars had won two national championships during the past academic year—one in soccer and one in tennis.

Farrow was the key player in the Cougars' march to their third straight National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II national tennis team championship. Important in his being chosen the men's Most Outstanding Athlete, was his sensational achievement of winning the national singles crown three of the last four years. Last week, he was picked as All-American on both NCAA Division I and II squads.

Don Ebert, All-American for three years, the No. 1 pro choice in the college soccer draft last December and now a member of the New York Cosmos, was Farrow's chief opposition.

Ebert's brilliant play and clutch scoring helped lead the Cougar soccer team to the school's first NCAA Division I championship late last year at Tampa, Fla., when the SIUE kickers won it all by defeating Clemson U. 3-2.

Almeida put together a brilliant tennis season. She has been the driving force behind the Cougars' drive toward a berth in the national championships at Los Angeles in the Association for Inter-Collegiate Athletics for Women's Division II tournament, June 11-14.

Covering four years to Almeida's two, Farrow's list of accomplishments on the tennis court tends to overshadow her two-year record. Playing against mostly NCAA Division I competition, Farrow turned in a 122-16 won-loss record.

In addition, Farrow captured two national doubles championships—last year with teammate Arjun Fernando and this year with SIUE freshman, Hugo Nunez.

Farrow prepared for his career at SIUE by winning the Missouri High School tennis championship three straight years while at Sumner High. He is also a member of the men's United States Davis Cup squad.

Almeida dominated the Midwest in AIAW tennis competition during the just completed season, clinching last week as she led the Cougars to the team tourney championship in Detroit, hosted by Wayne State U. She and her doubles partner, Pat Ziegenfuss, were nearly unbeatable. Over two years play, Almeida won 38 singles and lost 5. She and Ziegenfuss had a 35-5 mark.

Cougars sign former Luther South cager

EDWARDSVILLE — Bob Gray, a 6'7" member of the Chicago Luther South High School Braves basketball team which won the 1980 Illinois Class A state championship this March, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this coming fall, it has been announced by Jim Dudley, SIUE cage coach.

Gray averaged 12 points and 10 rebounds per game for Coach Cliff Doll's Luther High cagers. He was a key factor in the Chicago team's 27-5 year. He was named to the United Press International (UPI) all-state tournament team.

According to Dudley, "Bob is a fine all-around athlete who is also an excellent student. He has played outside and will be used as a wing man in our offense. He had an outstanding shooting touch and is a rugged rebounder, as evidenced by the fact that he led his team in rebounds in the state tournament."

Gray is also a good basketball prospect, Dudley pointed out. He will also join several other standout baseball players on the SIUE basketball squad: A pair of Cougar cagers, both freshmen, played on Coach Gary (Bo) Collins' baseball team. They are pitcher-infielder Ted Smith and pitcher Kent Taylor.

Gray's prep coach said: "Bob is very coachable, but it is possible that he is better at pitching than at basketball. He could help SIUE's basketball and baseball programs both."

Tri-City sweeps two from Centralia Legion

By TOM SCHOCKER
CENTRALIA — It was far from a slam-bang, shoot 'em up doubleheader. But it was safe to say that Eldon Warfield was satisfied with his team's play.
"We just found the pitching we needed," said Warfield. Indeed Tri-City received a fine pair of hurling performances. They allowed six hits in two games as Tri-City grabbed a double win over Centralia 3-1 and 1-0 Thursday.

"Tri-City played it straight from the opening inning, doing what it had to score runs. Bob Batey instituted two of the three, short, but effective offensive spurts. There was nothing to getting a run home. Lead-off hitter Kevin Sykes cracked a triple and Batey promptly drove him home with a single. Although Tri-City mislaid the ball three times, Centralia failed to capitalize on the errors.

Coming through with one on three hits was all Centralia could muster against the stingy Tri-City pitching staff. "We rely on our pitching," said Warfield. "They came through for us."

On the other hand Centralia's hurler were more than happy to accommodate Tri-City. They made good use of seven base hits. All of them coming in run scoring efforts. The fourth saw hits from Rich Cope and Bob Stegmeyer to produce a run. Batey again sparked a threat, singling in the sixth. He was followed in line by Stegmeyer. Mike Degonia added the clincher ripping an RBI single.

Another hurling clinic was thrown in the nightcap as Tri-City really turned cheap shutting out Centralia on three hits. Seemingly hoping that Centralia would make a game of it, Tri-City once more headed the list in errors 2-1. But as the day was going, Centralia's only miscue resulted in disaster.
Down a run or you need a extra? Look no further than Bob Batey. The inspirational leader took it on his own to break a scoreless deadlock. Rapping a single, Batey attempted to move himself into scoring position by swiping second base. When the throw from Centralia's catcher eluded the second baseman, Batey scooted for third and headed for home. It was like trying to stop a charging bull, as Batey turned into a two base error and a run. One that would haunt Centralia.

"We're not going exactly how we should," said Warfield. "Our heads were not in a couple of important games. We are 6-4 now. That is half as many as the high school won. Something is working right. But I tell you, we should have a better record."

Budde moves to Eastern

CHARLESTON — Chuck Budde, 36, one of the state's most successful high school football coaches at Charleston HS, moves across town to join Coach Darrell Mudra's staff at Eastern Illinois University.
He will officially begin duties at EIU on July 1, and will coach the offensive backs for the Panthers.
"We've always been impressed with Chuck's coaching," said Mudra. "We talked to him on another occasion or two and fortunately found a situation where we can utilize his abilities to the fullest."
"He'll work exclusively with our backs, plus head up our academic program... work with scheduling tutors,

and setting up our athletes in proper classes.
An additional plus is that he'll work with our high school summer camp, and since he's more sensitive to the needs of this level, I think we'll have a better program with his guidance."
The head coach the past seven years at Charleston High School, Budde has directed the Trojans to four straight berths in the IBSA Class 3A playoffs, three times reaching the final four.
His overall head coaching record is 68-19-2 (78 percent), including a phenomenal 55-14-1 at CHS (80 percent). At one time in 1979 the Trojans were ranked No. 2 in the state, and led Illinois in scoring offense for Class 3A schools. They also have been Apollo Conference champs six of the seven years.

"It's been a coaching aspiration of mine to reach the highest level possible, and I feel fortunate to move up to college coaching in a community where my family and already enjoy living," Budde said.
"But, this is a two way street... while it's a break for me, I hope to make it a good deal for Eastern, also. I spent a lot of time with them during spring ball, and it was of tremendous benefit because I got to know a lot about their people. I fully enjoyed my years at the high school, so there is a sense of loss in moving on... It was fun, and there were a lot of good people to be associated with," Budde said.

Previously he was head coach of Quincy's Christian Brothers HS (now Notre Dame) and an assistant at Edwardsville and St. Edward's in Austin, Texas.
Budde was the Decatur Herald Area "Coach of the Year" in 1979, was a member of the IFCA summer all-star game coaching staff last season and a member of several university summer football camp staffs.
A graduate of St. Edward's (TX) University, he also attended SIU-Carbondale and received a masters from Northeast Missouri. Originally from Belleville, Chuck and his wife, Pam, have three children, Lisa, Bryant and Brent.

Touch and go told the story in the opener. Late inning heroics was provided for McDonald's as they captured a see-saw battle. In a game that changed leads four times Corral had to wait until the third inning before it found the solution the McDonalds starting pitcher Al Yount.
Joe Parente got the ball rolling touching Yount for Corral's first base knock of the afternoon. Stealing second, he was sent home when John Krokovich ripped an RBI single. Krokovich following Parente's blunder swiping second and streaked on home on Warfield's single.
McDonald's bounced right back with a pair in the fourth. Following their singles, Jeff Parker and Shaun scored with the help of a George Hubert RBI ground

2 dram shop suits

Two lawsuits seeking damages from Granite City taverns under the Illinois Dram Shop statute have been filed in Madison County Circuit Court.

A three-count lawsuit seeking $20,000 in each count has been filed against the Tip Top Tavern in Granite City and its owner, Frank Finley Sr.

The suit was filed on behalf of the family of David A. Ford, who was injured in an auto accident at Sixth Street and McCambridge Avenue in Madison Jan. 28.

It is alleged that Ford

became intoxicated at the tavern before having the accident and his injuries have denied family members income and support he would otherwise have provided.

The second suit was filed against Joyce and Mickey's Tavern and its owner, Joyce Edwards.

It alleges that on March 20, Richard Pearnan Sr. became intoxicated at the tavern and later drove from the roadway and was injured. It seeks in excess of $15,000 for his family members.

Object to mobile home

Four residents of the Jones Park area of Pontoon Beach attended the village board's regular meeting last week to object to the village granting permission to Nameeki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehle to put a mobile home on his lot in Jones Park for rental property.

The objectors were told that the board approved placement of the mobile home at its previous meeting, despite a recommendation from the village's zoning board that it be denied.

The residents said they were not against the mobile home being put there, but were against it being used as rental property.

Board President Paul Bennett stated, "We do not have the authority to reject something just because it is for renters, if we were against renters, we would have to close Gaslight Walk (Apartments) down," he stated.

Bennett said the asphalt program was to begin Wednesday on Lake Drive, at the railroad crossing, where the railroad is repairing the crossing. Macclair Asphalt is resurfacing most of the village's streets under a program funded with community development grants.

All work on the south side of Pontoon Road will be completed before work begins on the north side. The work is expected to take a week to 10 days for the entire village.

Reading Club will be held on Thursdays at 2 p.m. (except July 3) in the Children's Room. Reading Club sessions last one hour.

Vacation school at St. John

St. John United Church of Christ, 2301 Nameeki Road, will hold vacation church school June 23 through June 27.

The classes will begin each morning at 9:30 and will end at 12 noon. Classes will be provided for children from three years of age through the sixth grade.

The theme for the vacation church school is "Created for Love." Each day will focus on a different aspect of this theme through worship, classroom activities, and play experiences. Refreshments will be provided daily.

All parents are being invited to the closing program, which will be held on Friday, June 27, at 11 a.m. Each class will make a presentation demonstrating some of the learning experienced during the week.

A picnic lunch will follow the program and parents are to provide food for their children and themselves.

All children of the community are invited to participate in St. John's vacation school, a spokesman said.

Arrest leads to 2nd charge

Mary B. Hooker, 18, of 2731 Warren Ave., was arrested and named on a misdemeanor theft charge last week, following an alleged shoplifting incident at the P. N. Hirsch store, 3230 Nameeki Road.

After being taken to police headquarters, Miss Hooker also was cited on a state charge of theft in connection with the disappearance of a moped reported stolen June 4 from the home of her father, Harrison Hooker, 2301 Cardinal Ave.

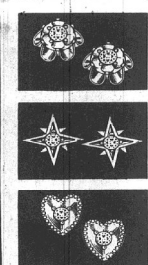

Police are seeking a second person allegedly involved in the moped incident.

A Hirsch store employee alleged the woman placed two pairs of jeans, valued at $32, and a $4 hat in a brown bag and left the store.

Miss Hooker was asked by the clerk to return to the store and, while police were being called, she allegedly ran through the Bellemore Village Shopping Center with the employee in pursuit.

An officer made the arrest at the Mr. Donut Shop, 3134 Nameeki Road.

Chance for passage of law increasing rape sentences

Because time is running out in the current Illinois legislative session, senators need to make a point of acting on a House-passed, Steele-Stiehl proposal which would establish life imprisonment for rape cases marked by heinous or wanton cruelty.

Rep. Everett Steele and Rep. Celeste Stiehl say the current pattern of numerous sexual assaults indicates a need for further toughening of the law.

At present, rape is a Class X crime subject to a minimum penalty of six years with no probation; the maximum sentence of 30 years can be doubled by the judge in brutal cases.

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron supports life sentences in some rape cases and opposes a reduction in penalties currently sought by the Illinois Rape Study Commission; the commission sees lower penalties as being conducive to more convictions and less plea bargaining.

During the past year, 21 defendants were prosecuted on rape charges in this county, with 13 convicted, three cases dismissed, two convicted of lesser charges and several still pending.

Byron points out that some of the cases have been "particularly violent and vicious." He notes that while a sentence of 60 years or some other period of long duration sounds effective, it can easily be altered by prisoner review boards. Life sentences might be harder to reduce, he says.

State Senator Sam Vadalabene supports the concept of life sentences for certain rape cases. If a few more senators will rally behind the legislation, it has a good chance of becoming law.

Test scores among Illinois students stable or rising

(Commentary by departing State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin) — I would like to summarize progress made by the state education agency staff with the support and cooperation of the Illinois Board of Education, 1975-1980.

1. Test scores are stable or rising. While the nation laments the drop in College Board scores, Illinois test scores since 1975 have remained stable. Mathematics scores 40 points above and verbal scores 30 points above the national average. The Illinois Inventory of Educational Progress, a state sampling of achievement, shows metric and mathematics scores rising in most grades.
2. Increased state aid for the schools. Since 1975, the Board of Education has recommended expanded dollars for regular education, a doubling of funds for vocational training and for mandated programs such as special education and transportation.
3. Total state aid for schools approved by the governor and legislature has risen by $600 million, 1975-1979. Evaluations show that the formula has substantially assisted the less wealthy schools it was designed to help, as well as those with large concentrations of low-income families.
4. Equal opportunity has been expanded. Twenty additional school district desegregation plans were accepted in whole or in part by the State Board. Agency staff ran 200 sex equity workshops and the number of women on high school athletic teams has doubled. The bilingual program now serves 40,000 students, many from Spanish and Asian backgrounds, and helps with the transition to English. Funds for gifted programs have almost doubled in five years.
5. Education programs for the handicapped have been managed effectively. More than 200,000 children a year are correctly diagnosed, placed and served in public and private special education programs. Hundreds of families have exercised their "due process" rights, hearings, and thousands of parents have helped to design individual education programs for their children.
6. The bureaucracy has been streamlined and professionalism strengthened. From a high of 1,050 state and 290 regional employees in the 1960s, the staff now numbers 930 state and 125 regional staff. All vacancies are publicly advertised and employees are protected by written contracts approved by the State Board of Education. Audit exceptions for the agency numbered 50 in January 1979, which is a low number for an agency of this size. All recommendations are fully implemented.

6. Teacher education programs at all colleges and universities have been subjected to rigorous review. More than 850 under-enrolled for marginal programs have been withdrawn. Education has improved the counseling and practical experiences for future teachers, counselors and administrators.
7. A $50 million secular textbook program for public and non-public students was administered with the help of local administrators, a computer and a small staff. The state does not approve specific textbooks. This remains a local problem.
8. Federal relationships have improved. We assigned two education staff members to the State of Illinois Washington D.C. office, doubled the federal grants and contracts for Illinois education (now over $400,000,000 a year) and assisted with the transition to the new Department of Education.
9. The concept of responsibility education approved by the State Board in 1976 has taken hold. The State Boards of Education and Elections are sponsoring, with county clerks, a major voter registration drive. Consumer education, economic education and law education programs have been strengthened in many schools.
10. Services to school districts have been strengthened. Seventy-seven schools asked for and received assistance in planning for enrollment decline. Program specialists help local schools with specialized programs, grant applications, and workshops. The East St. Louis School Board requested and received additional help in monitoring seven elections and in restoring financial integrity to decision-making for education. The number of reporting forms was cut by more than 100.

Pumping to drain flooded field

The Metro-East Sanitary District has moved electric pumps into a flooded field area along Forest Boulevard south of Route 157 to drain it of sewage and water that accumulated because of a broken Caseyville sewer line, district officials reported today.

A district official reported during a meeting of the trustees this morning that Caseyville has been flooded by the broken line which permitted drainage of the area which had been covered by sewage leaking from the break.

The broken line has been the cause of a controversy over repair of the Caseyville line. The sanitary district also has a break in its line from the pumping station which serves Caseyville and has discussed plans for repair of that section.

The trustees this morning also granted an easement to the Alton & Southern Railroad for construction of a new bridge over the Cahokia Canal near the control works east of Route 111 near Horseshoe Lake. The railroad agreed to pay $3,375 for the easement.

SHUT DOWN LAST WEEK for a complete relining, Granite City Steel's "A" Blast Furnace is pictured in the foreground. After setting a new GC Steel record for production on a single brick lining, 4,366,183 tons of iron, the furnace will be down for about four months for the relining project. Because of the low level of steel orders, the two-furnace plant will be able to fill customer requirements from the output of just the "B" Furnace, shown in the background.

'Hot spot' leads to early relining of blast furnace

A complete reline of its "A" Blast Furnace has started at the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

Previously scheduled to begin at the end of June, the relining project was moved ahead when a "hot spot" developed in the furnace lining and a crack was found in the furnace shell.

A blast furnace is a 230-foot-tall cylindrical structure of ceramic brick inside a steel shell.

It uses iron ore pellets as its main raw material, heated by coke, oil and natural gas to as much as 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit — with limestone to remove impurities — to produce molten iron for the steelmaking process.

The GC Steel Engineering Department is supervising the relining, which is being performed by Andco, Inc., of Buffalo, N.Y., as the general contractor.

The job is scheduled to take 120 days, unless business conditions should improve enough to warrant a speed-up of the work schedule. That push back the furnace's availability until fall.

Closing down "A" Furnace operations added more people to the GC Steel plant layoff. It now numbers about 900, although this fluctuates on a weekly basis, depending on customer orders, which are currently quite low.

Granite City Steel's other blast furnace, "B" Furnace, was relined during the past winter and went back into operation in late February.

"A" Furnace had the longest lining "campaign" of any Granite City Steel blast furnace. It was last relined in late 1974.

However, a new Venturi scrubber was installed on the furnace in December 1979 to help improve the removal of gases from its exhaust system.

During the life of the "A" Furnace lining, which began Nov. 25, 1974, and ended last week, June 8, furnace crews cast a total of 4,366,183 tons of iron — a new Granite City Steel record.

The old record of 3,495,091 tons was set on "B" Furnace in an interrupted campaign that began in 1968 and ended in November 1971 — but that record was marred in that it was on the furnace hearth only. The brick in the bosh and stack had been replaced during the campaign.

The record "A" Furnace performance also extended to the number of casts made from the furnace. During the recently-concluded furnace campaign, 14,414 casts were made.

Proceed on school roofs

Granite City School Board members at a special meeting Thursday night voted to proceed with installation of a new Prather Junior High School roof by Professional Urethane and a new Lake Elementary School roof by Biebel Brothers.

The spray foam roof for Prather will cost $114,700 and Lake's single-ply roof with insulation will cost $82,460.

The low-bid contracts were awarded as originally recommended by school administrators at the June 3 board meeting. It is still hoped to complete the work during the summer months.

Architectural and engineering studies since June 3 showed that, at both schools, some areas might not have been able to cope with the weight of a rubberized roof.

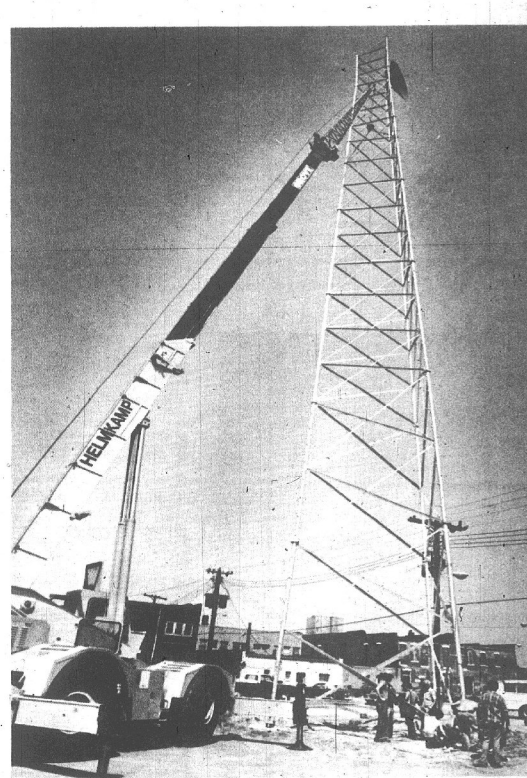

The school staff said that due to past problems with roofs, new methods such as the two chosen Thursday night should be tried. The funding is from a balance in the school district's bond and interest fund.

Administrators said that dismissed effective this summer may qualify for unemployment compensation, but in most cases they are being given reasonable assurance that they will be employed full-time this fall as vacancies develop, administrators said.

The district utilizes a consultant during its processing of compensation requests and makes a decision—approving or opposing a request—on the basis of the specific facts, which differ in nearly all instances, the administrators added.

All teachers honorably dismissed give to a staff reduction were made eligible for substitute teaching work if they are not offered full-time jobs.

Jimmy L. Wells, 24, of 201b Weaver St., Venice, was charged by Venice police last week with unlawful possession of cannabis and with possession with the intent to deliver cannabis in connection with a search of Wells' home Friday, June 6.

Venice police said they have been watching Wells' address for about two months and suspected marijuana sales, so they asked the Division of Criminal Investigation of the Illinois State Police to aid in conducting an undercover investigation.

DCI agents alleged setting up a marijuana "buy" from Wells and said they purchased marijuana at this home Thursday, June 5. They obtained sufficient evidence that Associate Judge Philip J. Barick issued a search warrant for Wells' home, which was executed by officers June 6.

Four persons in the home, including Wells, were taken into custody and held in the Venice Jail for investigation, but three, including a brother and sister from Venice, were later released without being charged. Also released was a St. Louis woman who said she was only visiting the Wells home, officers said.

Wells' bond was set at $20,000 and he was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Dr. Forcade received his Masters degree from Xavier University of Ohio and undergraduate degree from the University of Illinois.

A reunion for relatives of the Biggs, Warfield, and Travis families is being planned for Sunday, June 22, at Wilson Park, according to Mrs. Lorraine Turner.

Those planning on attending are to provide their own picnic menu and to meet at shelters 7 and 8 on the State Street side of the park, Mrs. Turner noted.

Anyone interested in participating and would like more information is invited to call Mrs. Turner at 877-2992.
